

Why is the State of Connecticut interested in FosterParentCollege.com?

The State of Connecticut is providing FosterParentCollege.com to state-licensed and staff members at no cost to them.

They want to provide their foster, adoptive, and kinship parents 24/7, with parenting skills using effective high quality in-service training classes. FosterParentCollege.com courses are research-based, topic-specific training delivered as self-paced courses on the internet.

Courses available at FosterParentCollege.com explore practical parenting strategies, behavior problems, and emotional disorders in children.

Benefits for Parents

Whether resource parents are coping with family challenges or meeting in-service training requirements, FosterParentCollege.com courses are there for them 24/7. All courses are self-paced and provide parents the trauma-informed skills they seek.

"We really enjoyed the classes they were very informative and understandable. We have taken 4 classes and plan on taking more. It is very convenient for us to take the course in the evening because our days are so busy."

— Mr. & Mrs. Boyles, Foster Parents

Benefits for Agencies

FosterParentCollege.com courses can be a valuable supplement to personal visits and help you retain resource parents and avoid disruptions for children in care.

You will be able to assign, monitor, and communicate with your resource parents through the online management system. Our customer service team can help you get started and support you as needed.

"When I started this I really thought [my staff] would not want the extra work, or they'd be afraid of the [online management system]. I have had a wonderful response. They love it and are so surprised at how easy it is for them to administer."

— Marlene, Regional Trainer, Oregon
